EBPC gives finance a healthier outlook with Sage Intacct

Migrating from Sage 50 Accounts brings faster reporting, smoother processes and more time to develop the finance team.

“The reporting, the flexibility and the customisation are really good. It is so much quicker and smoother.”

An ageing system slowed finance down

EBPC was using a longstanding Sage 50 Accounts system that handled the basics but was slow when processing larger amounts of data.

The finance team also needed stronger reporting as it built management accounts, controls and budgets.

A natural step up from Sage 50

EBPC migrated from Sage 50 Accounts to Sage Intacct, going live in June 2025. The move provided a faster, more flexible platform while allowing the organisation to continue its journey with Sage.

About EBPC

EBPC is a community interest company providing NHS services across East Berkshire. Its work includes out-of-hours care, appointment booking, urgent and primary care, advice lines and remote monitoring. The organisation has around 250 employees and a pool of locum doctors.

From basic accounts to better insight

Sage 50 Accounts had served EBPC for many years, but extracting larger datasets could take time and reporting options were limited. The organisation needed a modern system that could speed up finance and support more detailed decision-making.

Building confidence after go-live

The team needed time to adjust after moving from Sage 50 Accounts. As users became familiar with Sage Intacct, they began to value its features. Direct Sage support and the Sage community now help the team resolve questions and keep learning.

Reporting at a healthier pace

Sage Intacct gives Abdullah a flexible range of customisable reports. Data that previously took time to extract is now available quickly, helping the finance team complete processes more smoothly and see the accounts position more clearly.

“When you try to extract a lot of data on Sage 50 Accounts, you would be waiting. On Sage Intacct, it is instant.”

Faster tasks create room to learn

Features such as dragging emailed invoices into Sage Intacct help speed up every day work.

With the team now comfortable using the system, Abdullah can introduce new features and give colleagues more opportunities to develop their accounting knowledge.

Working towards one complete view

EBPC plans to explore more Sage Intacct features, including budgeting, reforecasting and variance analysis.

The goal is to bring more finance information into one place and make Sage Intacct a complete solution for the organisation.
